Planning your trip

For those who fly in, and do not want to spent a lot of money on transfers, train is the cheapest option to get to Zoetermeer. For planning your trip, visit <http://www.ns.nl/cs/Satellite/travellers>. From Schiphol airport trains depart from Amsterdam Schiphol airport to Zoetermeer for NH hotel and Dutch Water Dreams. Price per person by train is € 9,10 (one way ticket). It will take you approximately 1 hour from the airport to Zoetermeer.

Payment

Registration has been made. The invoice must be settled by the teams in Zoetermeer upon arrival. Bank transfer is not possible!

Entry fee, catering facilities, and costs for additional training sessions must be settled at Dutch Water Dreams previous to the first training session at the registration desk! The invoice for accommodation at the NH hotel must be settled at NH hotel.

DUTCH WATER DREAMS

Aqua Design raft

Aqua Design is sponsor of the official WRC 2010 raft. After some test models Aqua Design decided not to provide the Challenge 340 model in PVC but in the Hypalon version. The Hypalon version will also content 2 thwart.

The Aqua Design Challenge 340 rafts will also be used at the Pre Worlds in October 2009.

Safety

Safety during the Pre Worlds will be provided by Rescue 3 Benelux. Rodney Sebregts and a team of CIOS Arnhem students will be stand-by to provide assistance when necessary.

Rescue 3 Benelux is the leading training provider for Rescue 3 International in The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxemburg. Rescue 3 Benelux has been coordinating the delivery of the full Rescue 3 International course program, including swift water, whitewater and rope rescue programs in these countries since 2004. The range of courses Rescue 3 Benelux teaches include awareness, operations, technician, instructor and management level for whitewater professionals and the emergency services.

As well as providing the full range of Rescue 3 International courses, Rescue 3 Benelux is responsible for the certification of Rescue 3 International instructors, post-certification updates and quality assurance of Rescue 3 International instructors in the Benelux.

Down River

Although the Netherlands is not famous for its white water rivers, we have managed to put together an interesting Down River Race. Last weekend the Dutch Nationals took place at Dutch Water Dreams, from this race we have made a short impression of the downriver:
